“Intranets.com is a service that will grow with your company,” says Anthony Cooch, Principal of Stonebridge Title, LLC, a real estate settlement company, in Fairfax, VA.

“We strive to make the complex settlement experience a seamless, error-free transaction for every party involved: Clients, mortgage brokers, mortgage lenders, and realtors. Intranets.com’s calendar and database functions help us to do that very efficiently, and have helped us grow our company,” Cooch says. “And, he adds, “Intranets.com is very easy to use.”

“We use the Intranets.com calendar function to schedule all our meetings and track where everyone is. Because of the growing volume of both residential and commercial real estate settlements that we handle, readily tracking and scheduling all 7 members of the firm with Intranets.com allows us to be 50% more efficient than we were before,” Cooch says. “One important aspect of our service offering is our flexibility in closing times and locations - something that Intranets.com’s calendar function helps us maximize.”

“We were a firm of only 2 people when we started using Intranets.com, a year ago, and as we’ve grown, Intranets.com has grown with us. Before that we had been using Yahoo’s Calendar and that didn’t work very well for us. So, I searched the Internet for another calendar and found Intranets.com. I highly recommend it for small companies like ours that want their own intranet, but don’t have the budget to buy a server or hire an IT professional.”

Stonebridge’s full service title and escrow capabilities include: Title insurance; resolution of title issues; electronic document processing; acquisition of surveys; title search and examination, and notary public service. “We are using the Intranets.com Database Manage to track the status of all of our orders for titles, and it’s great for that. There are lots of different steps in this process, and the Intranets.com database allows us to track them all and share that information among our group.”

“We also use the Intranets.com contacts list function and like that very much. Cultivating ongoing relationships with mortgage brokers, mortgage lenders and realtors is very important to our business. Having an efficient way to manage all that contact information is extremely helpful,” Cooch said.

I highly recommend [Intranets.com] for small companies like ours that want their own intranet, but don’t have the budget to buy a server or hire an IT professional.”
